EAT AND BE EATEN.

BY MISS M. E. WENTWORTH.

Puss came in this noon, with a trembling little chirping squirrel in her terrible claws, and after rating her severely for her cruelty, I let the poor animal loose, who hopped off in a trice, as much as to say, "I did not come to tea." Sister reminded me that we had just dined upon the body of an interesting chicken, who had probably eaten as many worms as it could easily manage, during its short life. This set me moralizing, as I am wont to do; and sitting down, and peering through the half open window, at the listless clouds, I lost myself in a most delightful reverie, whose thoughts I would fain bring back and record in this sheet.—It seemed as if there was a convention of birds, insects, and beast, and numerous spectators of the bipeds, called human beings, and the object of the meeting was, for each speaker to lay before the society, the grievances to which he was subjected, from his several enemies. Puss was there, and having looked very wise out of her grey visionary orbs, and washed her face, demurely opened the services, by saying:—

"Fellow citizens—Man, and snare-traps, are my deathless enemies. Man drowns my kittens, and traps break and mangle my limbs. I am a cruelly treated being, though I am well fed, I am compelled to hunt from morning till night, in a rickety old house, to catch and scratch for rats and mice." I was astonished at the ingratitude of my favorite Grimaldin, and could have sworn, upon every leaf of Webster's spelling book, that the indolent creature had caught nothing except a chipmunk to-day, for her dinner; but I could not be heard in the clatter of voices. It was noted that puss was ill-treated, and the sympathy of her afflicted brethren and sisters, was tendered to her wounded heart. "I am for war, universal war," screamed a hateful hawk. "I am shot at and stoned." "So am I," buzzed a blue-nose fly. "And I," squeaked a spider. "Let us arm ourselves against the tyrant," hissed a snake. "I second the motion," croaked a hump-backed frog. "And I," cooed a sweet little Thrush; "they steal my eggs, and make me a slave; I go in for war." A long tailed Rat, next took the chair, and from the greyness of his beard, and the wisdom of his countenance, no doubt the audience were greatly edified; but I was unable to hear, from the applause which thundered through the room.

Mr. Rat resigned the floor to a learned fox, who introduced his subject, so as to upset the gravity of the former speaker, and the risibles of the audience. Mrs. Lamb went on to say, after he had done, that she could not fellowship such a scoundrel as Mr. Fox. Reynard blushed at the accusation, and barked for an explanation, or a retraction.—Mrs. Lamb refused to give it, and repeated that he was a thief, and a traitor; whereupon the chairman called vainly to order, and to finish the business of the meeting.—A Worm, taking advantage, crawled up on the back of the chairman, Mrs. Hen, and from her elevated position, began to address the meeting in a speech of eloquence.—

"Men tread upon the crawling reptile now, and grind him to the dust; but there is coming a time, when worms shall know his vile body, and riot in his coffin. I am non-resistance now, that I may have sweeter vengeance by and by." "You are a fool," cried Mrs. Hen, and snapped up the worm in a trice. Upon this, the fox flew at the hen, and tore her from limb to limb. The spider manched blue bottle, and the toad swallowed the spider. The snake stuck out his poison tongue, and though the poor toad hopped like a May bee on burning coals, the old gentleman was the gainer, as he twined his huge fangs over him, and held him, while he swallowed him up; as the whale did disobedient Jonah. The little Thrush was making off with a stray ant when puss caught her last. Mrs. Lamb fell into the insatiate jaws of the fox, who swore he would avenge the insult she had put upon him, and while he was crouching her flesh and bones, I looked anxiously for the fate of puss; but she was tantalizing the poor rat, and after a while dragged him out of the door—the fox chasing them at full speed. Reynard fell dead at the feet of a hunter, outside the door, who was looking for snipe, and as for puss; I confess I was not sorry that she was caught in a steel trap, as I had known her guilty as an egg stealer and eater. The rat got away in puss's flight, and I dare say, went home wiser than he left it. So man and beast, and bird or insect, have no greater enemy than the rapacity and selfishness of their own heart. Beasts prey upon birds—birds upon reptiles—and the hideous worm is the food of the fowl and the fish. Each, disdains to devour his own kind, but christian man draws his sword to take the life of his brother man; and the rude savage drinks the blood, and eats the flesh of his human victim. Is it a wonder then, that the inferior order, with the high and lofty example of the lords of creation before them, should eat and destroy their neighbors, and fulfill the destiny for which all were made—To eat and be eaten.

Westerly, R. I., June, 1846.

The population of Europe is estimated by Malte Brun, at 214,000,000 souls. Asia is put down by Balbi at 413,844,000.

TEXAS.—The Texas Register contains a complete list of the members of the Legislature of that State, Senate 21; House 65. Of the whole number, 4 are elected as Whigs, 2 Loco Focus, 2 Tyler men, 1 Polk man, 1 Texian, 1 Nullifier, 4 Republicans, 1 Anti-Tariff man, 1 Tariff man, 14 not specified, the rest Democrats. The oldest member is 57, the youngest 22. Thirty-seven are farmers, 16 lawyers, 8 Merchants, 4 physicians, 4 mechanics, 8 surveyors, 3 soldiers, 1 planter, 1 printer, 9 not specified. Seventeen members are from North Carolina, 13 from Virginia, 9 from Kentucky, 9 from Tennessee, 8 from Georgia, 6 from South Carolina, 4 from Massachusetts, 3 from Louisiana, 2 from New York, 2 from Maine, 2 from Mississippi, 2 not specified, and one each from Alabama, Connecticut, Indiana, Pennsylvania, England, Ireland, Scotland, Austria, and Texas.

MEXICAN EXPORTS.—The exports from the Republic of Mexico amount to, about $20,000,000 annually. Not less than $12,000,000 of silver are coined in the various mints, of which there are some six or eight in the Republic.

A Banking House has been constructed in Toronto, and in the floor fronting the money vault, a large trap door has been constructed, which opens at the slightest touch, and any one approaching it will be precipitated into the basement, the walls of which are double, and prevent escape. The trap will be set only at night of course!

MANUFACTURE OF GUNS.—The gun manufacture of Birmingham are so well supplied with machinery, that they can produce well finished muskets at the rate of one per minute.

ISLAND SOUND STEAMERS.—We have an excellent line of Steamers, daily, between this place and New York. The Massachusetts, Capt. Potter, and the Rhode Island, Capt. Manchester. The Massachusetts is a very large and comfortable boat, and is fitted up in truly magnificent style. Her cabins are large and airy, and the berths very commodious and neat. She has a large number of state rooms, which are in excellent order, and as comfortable as a private bed-room. All the arrangements of the boat are first-rate, and her experienced commander gives universal satisfaction. He has been on the Sound a great number of years, and is a thorough seaman; in addition to this, he has all the requisites of a popular commander. The table on board this boat, is always furnished with the choicest products of the market. Her clerk is extremely gentlemanly, and is entirely free from all those little assumptions of authority, which are often witnessed in Clerks of Steamboats, and which are very disgusting to passengers. He is a perfect gentleman. Our friend Mr. Dilts, the Baggage Master, is always on hand, and has a smile for every one, and is ever ready to protect and guard the baggage of travellers; any one who trusts to him, in his line, will never be disappointed. The servants are all polite and attentive, and the chimney-maids are very popular with the ladies. All that we have said of the Massachusetts, will apply with equal force to the Rhode Island; she is a swift and beautiful boat, and her accommodations are such as to give general satisfaction. Capt. Manchester, is a Newport man, and well known to all our citizens; he is a gentleman of much nautical experience, and fully competent to perform his responsible duties.

The polite Clerk, Mr. Dana, is ever ready to accommodate those whom he has to deal with, and his manners are very pleasing. Our friend, Mr. Grigor, the Baggage Master, is a host in himself, and looks well to the friends, &c. The servants of this boat are equal to those of the Massachusetts. Persons going to New York, from this place, will find it much to their advantage to secure berths here, of Mr. Charles N. Pilley, 128 Thames street, or Mr. Anthony Stewart, at Kinsley's Express Office;—as the boats are often crowded, and under such circumstances, it is difficult to obtain accommodations. If berths are secured here, there is no trouble about the matter.

VIGOR, COURAGE AND MANHOOD OF OLD ROBERT AND REABY.—When Gen. Taylor was a young man, says the Louisville Journal, he and an older brother, William, long since dead, swam from the Kentucky shore across the Ohio river to the Indiana shore, and back again without resting. The feat was performed in the month of March, when the river was swollen and chill. It greatly surpassed the famous swimming the Hellespont, which is about a mile across and of delightful temperature. The Taylors were not accompanied by a boat, as Byron was when he swam the Hellespont, which makes all the difference in the world. One winter, when Gen. Taylor was stationed at Prairie du Chien, he used to walk every morning from his lodgings to the barracks, without a great coat, when the thermometer was forty degrees below zero.

IMPORTANT FROM THE CAPE OF GOOD HOPE.—The ship Natchez, Capt. Waterman, from Canton, via the Cape of Good Hope, arrived at New York on Sunday, bringing dates to the 29th of April. The news is highly important.

The Kafir Tribes have commenced hostilities against the burgher inhabitants of the Colony.

Col. Hare, Lieut. Governor of the Eastern Districts of the Colony, by proclamation, has declared the Colony under martial law.

MORAL ENTERTAINMENT.—"The Drunkard, or the Fallen Saved" was performed last evening, at the Town Hall. The parts were all admirably sustained, and the excellent manner in which Mrs. Howard performed her part, called forth repeated applause. She is a very beautiful lady, and the true feelings of a modest, worthy woman, whose husband has been ruined by intemperance, is indeed powerful. We were astonished not to see a full house, and cannot conceive why it is not patronized by the friends of Temperance; its influence is far more potent than any lecture, and is calculated to do much good. To-night there will be entire new performances.—"The Gambler, or lost and won," is to be presented; and the entertainment will conclude with the farce of "The Factory Girl." The price of admission is twelve and a half cents. Let there be a full house.

A chap in New York advertizes invisible wigs for sale.

The editor of the Newport Daily News says, if we will come down there this summer, we shall have a ride in that splendid English coach, and that we shall then swell more than ever. Swell? What does the young dog mean by swell? He certainly cannot suppose that any body can get fat upon fog; and that there is nothing else to get fat upon in Newport, is generally conceded.—Prov. Daily Gazette.

Fudge, man! never heard of any body's getting fat on fog? Why, only look in the glass, and your own eyes certainly cannot deceive you.

The trial of Albert J. Tirrell, for arson, is progressing in Boston. He is defended by Rufus Choate and Annis Merrill.

Messrs. RICHARD L. OGDEN and BENJAMIN C. CARD, left here here on Monday night, for the seat of war. Mr. O. is a Sattler in the army, and Mr. C. goes out in his employ. We trust that these young gentlemen, who have left a host of warm friends, in this town, will return, at the close of the war, with handsome fortunes. Success to them.

The United States Circuit Court is still in session, in this town. We understand that the criminal trials will probably commence to-day.

A large number of Strangers have already arrived at Saratoga Springs. Large numbers are also daily arriving at the principal Hotels in this town.

There are 1,644 school districts in Connecticut; number of children from four to sixteen years old, 85,275. The average number of scholars in attendance, during the summer of 1845, was 43,748, during the winter of 1845, 6,31,725. The number of all ages in private schools is 6,402.

There is a Theatrical Company, in Providence, performing "Rosina Mendosa." Why do you not come to Newport with it, Mr. English?

Having erroneously stated, in our paper of the 13th inst., that three, who had withdrawn from the New England Yearly Meeting of Friends, met in the Clarke-st. Meeting House, we, comply, with the request of a member of the meeting assembled there, in stating, that the New England Yearly Meeting of Friends, who adhere to the ancient principles, will hold a public meeting, for worship, at said meeting house, this day, at eleven o'clock, A. M.

We are indebted to our indefatigable friends, Mr. J. N. Dilts, Baggage Master of the Rhode Island; and Mr. A. D. Grigon, Baggage Master of the Massachusetts for New York, and Boston papers, daily Boston papers that we get through them, are more than twelve hours in advance of the mail, and thus we are enabled to lay the news of the death of Van Amburgh before our readers, long before they would get it otherwise.

We are also indebted to Capt. Child, Pilot of the Rhode Island, for Providence papers of last evening.

For the Newport Daily News.

ATLANTIC HOUSE,
6th Month, 15th 1846.

ORIN F. JACKSON—Esteemed Friend:—Thinking, probably, that a short transcript, by way of communication, would be acceptable to some readers, as regards the doings at our house, I dip my pen in that sable fluid, which every one, that has been hit by the dipsos of authorship, knows full well its mortal qualities.

Our house is the scene of festivity, mirth and happiness; for beauty, with its bewitching and bewildering qualities, builds here a fairy land for itself and others, to dwell in, and friendly fair ones, to whom life seems but a merry mass, and everything a theme for poetry, act as guides through its delightful entrances, leading the mind from charm to charm, until it becomes lost in the contemplation of beauty, order and love.

The Yearly Meeting of Friends, have brought down a great many Friendly maidens, and I think some of whom, are such as my friend, N. P. Willis, (whose taste is unquestionable,) would call decidedly clever.

The Atlantic House is remarkably well kept, and its gentlemanly proprietor, we believe, does every thing in his power, to render his guests happy.

R, of New Jersey.

The Lynn Pioneer ventures to insinuate that we can't raise whiskers. We could furnish enough stock to stuff a mattress, in a week, and then have more whiskers left than any two men in all Lynn. If we had brain in proportion to our capillary supply, Daniel Webster himself, would hold our hat.—Boston Star.

Why don't you go into the upholstery business, Corporal; you can raise your own stock, and no doubt it would pay well.

THE NORWICH (VT) CADETS are paying a friendly visit to the city of Notions.

DUEL.—Two editors out west quarrelled about their papers, and a challenge ensued—one in practicing at a mark to enable him to hit his antagonist shot off his own fingers, and here the matter ended.

CLOTH FOR THE ARMY.—The Wilmington Gazette states that Charles I. Dupont, Esq., has a contract with the Government for 80,000,000 yards of cloth for the use of the army.

Mr. McChiment, of the Concert Mills, near Philadelphia, has also contracted for a large quantity.

AWFUL AND MELANCHOLY DEATH OF VAN AMBURGH.

Killed by a Tigress, at Scituate, R. I.
Intelligence has just reached us of the awful death of Van Amburgh, on Monday evening last. It appears that this celebrated and extraordinary man, was exhibiting his daring feats to a very numerous audience, in a field adjoining the village of Scituate.

After having displayed the wonderful ascendancy which man has gained over the brute creation, for more than an hour, with his noble collection of lions, &c., he next brought out a Tigress, and continued his performance by making her crouch at his feet, and spring upon his back at a glance from his peculiar eye, fondling and caressing her with all the confidence one would repose in a favorite dog.

At this time a young lady asked Mr. Van Amburgh if he dare approach the beasts at the time they were feeding. "Most assuredly," he replied, and immediately ordered a piece of beef thrown in. The beef was secured by the Tigress, who was proceeding to devour her prize, when Mr. Van Amburgh approached, and attempted to take the meat from her. At this the animal growled, and lashed her sides with her tail—the audience became alarmed, but Van Amburgh assured them there was not the least cause for fear.

He then struck the Tigress with violence, at which she crouched back, growled violently, lashed her sides furiously, and now all was uproar and confusion; in a moment she sprung upon the unfortunate man. A rush was made by the audience for the door, and in a moment they were out of the pavilion, but the managers immediately entered, and found Van Amburgh lying on his back, weltering in blood! the animal gazing wildly around, and seemed as if proud of her fatal conquest, her fore paw extended over the breast of her victim, whose lifeless form presented a truly horrible and appalling sight.

Guns were procured, and eight charges were fired at the tigress, and then all was silent. She lay bathed in her blood, beside her lifeless master.

Thus ended the life of that surprising man, Van Amburgh.

DESTRUCTION OF THE QUEBEC THEATRE.—Capt. Luckin who arrived from Canada last evening, via the Western Railroad, informs the proprietors of the Merchants' Exchange Reading Room that on Friday evening last the theatre in Quebec was destroyed by fire, and sixty or seventy lives were supposed to have been lost. The bones of forty bodies had been recovered from the ruins.—B. Am. Mail of yesterday.

The celebrated Townley estate, which has been so long in dispute in England, amounting to over $70,000,000, has been decided at last. One of the heirs in Boston, says a paper of that city, will come in for a share of about seven millions and a half.

A large company for Mexico was recently raised, enrolled and reported ready for service at Springfield, Illinois, in two hours.

MEXICAN PLAD.—General Taylor has forwarded to Gov. Johnston of Louisiana, a Mexican standard, one of his trophies on the glorious 8th and 9th ults.

There were 112 deaths in Philadelphia last week.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the friends of General Taylor, met at Trenton, N. J., on Friday evening, for the purpose of nominating the Hero of the Rio Grande, as a candidate for the Presidency of the United States.

A Belleville (Ill.) correspondent writes to the St. Louis Republican, an account of a hail storm that visited "them diggins" on the 3d inst., by which tops of stages were smashed through, horses knocked down, hogs, sheep and fowls killed, big holes knocked through men's hats, and many and many other equally large "doings" were "done up." The hail stones remained as large as a man's fist, hours after they fell.

Wholesome Correction.—In the correspondence between General Taylor and Alphonso, the following language is used by "Old Rough and Ready":

"I take leave to state that I consider the tone of your communication highly exceptional, where you stigmatize the movement of my army under my orders as marked with the seal of universal approbation. You must be aware that such language is not respectful in itself, either to me or my government; and while I observe in my own correspondence the courtesy due to your high position, and to the magnitude of the interests with which we are respectively charged, I shall expect the same in return."

On Tuesday last, the River at Mazon, rose some eighteen feet.

A MARRYING MAN.—The Utica Gazette cautions ladies against one Hiram N. Barnes, a hatter. He has already had five wives.

In the Connecticut Legislature, a bill for the punishment of those who attempt to improperly influence the votes of persons in their employ, passed the House by a large majority. The penalty is a fine from $50 to $100.

"I had my religion to choose," says Sam Slick, "and wasn't able to judge for myself. I tell you what I'd do; I'd just ask myself who leads the best life."

Mr. Burnell, late Cashier of the Bank at Nantucket, gave himself up on Saturday, and was committed to prison to await the action of the Supreme Court on a motion for a reduction of his recognizance ($25,000).

RE-OPENING OF THE UNITED STATES CLOTHING STORE.

A still greater revolution in the sale of READY MADE CLOTHING. New Store and new Goods, at the old stand, where the public have been favored with so many good bargains. 91 Thames street, one door north of Messrs. W. B. & E. J. SWAN'S. THE PROPRIETOR of this Establishment has the pleasure of informing the people of Newport and its vicinity, that he has leased the new and commodious store, 91 Thames street, for the purpose of carrying on the Ready Made Clothing Business, where the public may be assured that they will always find on hand the largest assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the place, as well as the lowest prices. If I can but induce the people to call upon me, I will give them the most positive proof of the truth of this assertion, as I am determined to secure for the United States Clothing Store a tremendous run of custom; and, aware as I am, that competition is so severe, that the only mode of success is to offer my Goods at a small advance on Cost. Will the people call upon me? I will give them the most positive and pleasing evidence of what I say; still more, I will not urge them with undue persuasion to purchase what they do not want. The custom of forcing goods upon people has become so prevalent that they are sorely perplexed to know where they can go and be allowed the use of their own judgment in selection of Goods. Once more I beseech of you to call and examine my stock of Clothing and Furnishing Goods, before purchasing elsewhere, which consists of a large and good assortment of FROCK and DRESS COATS, of a variety of styles and colors; also, a large quantity of TWEED FROCK and SACK COATS; 2 or 3 dozen of the GOLD MIXED TWEED, a most beautiful article for summer, Kentucky Jeans, and a great variety of other kinds, too numerous to mention.

Pantalons. Superfine black and blue black dress Cassimere, Broadcloth, Doe Skin and figured Cassimere; Super do. do. Plaid Satinets, Fancy do. Vermont Pants, Canada Grays do.

A rich assortment, consisting of some beautiful Cashmere patterns, some straight collars; Figured Satins, Plaids, and Stripes, do. Plain do. Silk and Worsted, black Silk Velvets, Dark Valencia, black Lustre and Bombazine, do. As well as the above articles, I have a great variety of Coats, Pants, Vests, and Jackets, made of various kinds of goods, which go to make up a full assortment, but which it is needless to specify.

Furnishing Goods. I challenge the place to show such an assortment. I have Shirts of the latest French styles and patterns, with yoke necks, from $1.25 to $2.50; also, common Shirts, with linen bosoms and collars, from 67c to $1.50. Linen Bosoms, plain, pleated, and Ruffled, from 25c. to $1.00. Linen Collars of all styles and qualities, from 8c to 25c. Cotton Flannel Shirts and Drawers, Lamb's wool, do; Portsmouth, do; Red twilled Under-shirts and Drawers; Hickory Shirts and Overalls.

HANDKERCHIEFS. Twilled Spillfield, Plaid, do. figured Pongee, white and red, do; Bandanna, do. &c. &c.

Stocks and Gravats. Fancy Silk and Satin Tye Stocks; Bombazine and Black, do. do; Satin ends, do; Bow, do. Plain, do; Bombazine Bow and Satin pleated Stocks; Rich figured Silk and Satin Gravats and Hdkfs.; Italian Silk Hdkfs., Black French, do. Linen, Muslin, Madras, and Gingham, do.

HATS and CAPS; the assortment is very large—call and examine for yourselves.

Supperware of every description, from 8c to $1.25. Silk, Gingham and Cotton Umbrellas; Hickory, Palm Wood, and Rattan Canes.

Seamen's Clothing; Oil Suits; Reefing Jackets; Glazed Hats; Overalls, &c. &c.

Trunks, Valises, and Carpet Bags; also Ladies' Hat Cases; Fancy Articles, and Perfumery.

Also—R. B. EDWARDS celebrated Hydrosmia or concentrated Prussian Essence, combining all the fragrant properties of the well known odoriferous compound, acknowledged by the Royal Family and Nobility, the most elegant perfume for the assembly or boudoir, imparting to the handkerchief a very agreeable, refreshing and lasting odor.

Boys' Clothing. The United States Clothing Store stands unrivalled in the sale of Boys' Clothing; and I have now on hand a large assortment of blue and black Broadcloth Suits, that will fit boys from 4 years old to ten. Also, a large assortment of Fancy suits of the best French Cassimere. Don't forget the number, 91 Thames street, sign of the large Window.
